

UTMB School of Nursing—Accolades

Publication Policy

The primary purpose of UTMB School of Nursing—*Accolades is to provide a brief, consistent, and ongoing forum for faculty, staff, and students to inform each other about what we have achieved in recent months. We hope that by sharing our triumphs, great and small, we can better appreciate all the hard work we do. To further this modest ambition, we ask that you please adhere to the following publication guidelines.

Please send any information you wish to share with your SON (or UTMB) colleagues about the following topics to this email address: jmbernst@utmb.edu.

- Recently funded grants.
- Recent publications. (Please do not send “in press” information. Wait until it’s published.)
- Recent professional presentations. (Please do not send “accepted” information. Wait until it’s been presented.)
- Recently received awards or honors related to your work at the UTMB SON.
- Please send complete information about publications and presentations in APA format. We will not publish incomplete information.
- Please do not send information about events happening in the future. There are other forums already devised to promote future events <http://www.son.utmb.edu/develop/events.asp> .

Note to faculty: If you update your CV regularly, you can expect to see your name regularly in Accolades.

We want to restrict this publication to this somewhat narrow focus for several reasons, primarily, that we have limited resources to devote to this project. We plan to publish about once each month depending on the volume of information we receive.

If you have questions, please let me know.

John Bernstein